

PAMELA HAMEL & GEORGE HAMEL, JR.

Vintners

In 2006, Pamela and George Hamel, Jr.—who first met as high school classmates in Virginia—purchased a home in Sonoma Valley with an acre of Cabernet Sauvignon vines. Longtime wine enthusiasts, they made a few barrels to share with friends, an experience that sparked a deeper passion and grew into a family endeavor.

In 2010, together with their son John, they expanded their vineyard holdings and established a winery rooted in long-term stewardship. While John leads the winery today, Pamela and George divide their time between Sonoma and Indian Wells, California. Their other three grown children live and work in Oregon, Southern California, and New York.
